Matthews on Willis Avenue. From the beginning, Tony Palombino was involved in all aspects of the business, from cooking to delivery, cash register management, developing wild and crazy marketing ideas. He's always worked on the premise that if you try pizza once, you'll love it and keep coming for more. Boombozz Pizza's story dates back to 1998, when Tony Palombino decided to combine his personal recipes and style with everything he had learned from his family. His idea was to combine a small pizza oven and a lot of hard work to create gourmet pizzas with top quality ingredients. He's always worked on the premise that if you try pizza once, you'll love it and keep coming for more. The name Boombozz comes from Italian slang and means wild, crazy and fun. Tony puts these ideas at the forefront of everything he does. The result is the totally unique flavor of a Boombozz pizza, and the fun atmosphere of a Boombozz Taphouse restaurant. Boombozz Taphouse days-funds are an easy way to raise funds for your school or organization! We will schedule your Fund Day from Monday to Wednesday available. You will receive a personalized brochure to email and distribute to your families, friends and supporters who will deliver that brochure with your Taphouse order on the designated date. At the end of the night your flyers will be counted and we will write a check to your group for 20% of the net total. Remember, the more people bring flyers, the more money you'll raise! We have driven past this place many times on trips between Bowling Green and Louisville. We were finally spending in a reasonable time for lunch at 2PM (1PM CST). If you've never been here, take the first right of the interstate and the... next to the right. If you go down the hill, you've gone too far. We did it. In addition, the main entrance faces the Holiday Inn, not the interstate. For our first visit, we thought it was a nice place. We've detected a problem There was a nice area that was a circular cabin for a dozen people that was a little Private. There was also a section for a more private party behind sliding barn glass doors. A full bar was towards the back facing the interstate. What I noticed was that the tables weren't full like many restaurants. The tables were less crowded together. A good change. My wife ate the steak and cheese sandwich. I ate an 8-year-old pepperoni pizza. With water, our bill was less than $20. My wife's sandwich was pretty big and ended up taking half of it home. The pizza of 8 was the perfect size for one and I enjoyed it. I'd go here again if the opportunity came up.
